

BCE,

Just to let you know I have not forgotten your request for a questionnaire for the Journal, I have reworked the first effort and come up with this jewel/ for your comments.

You mentioned specifically the idea of whether we are using the Annex properly and whether the entries themselves are adequate for general information.

I added just a short mention of style since this may open a can of worms.

At least everybody will now have a chance to let us know what they really think.

DCI JOURNAL QUESTIONNAIRE

This ~~Attached is a~~ questionnaire ^{is} designed to offer suggestions on how to enable the Journal to continue to serve your needs.

The ES is curious as to your reaction to whether the Journal respects the sensitivity of those papers you do not wish circulated for general information. We would like to know specifically whether you find any of your papers on the Journal which should not be read by the other offices because of the subjects' sensitivity or your desire to maintain privacy on some matters with the DCI.

Our other major concern is whether the Journal items are adequate for general information for those offices not on dissem for the actual papers themselves.

The ES is also receptive to any recommendations on the scope of entries, their style, or format.

OCI Journal Questionnaire

Attached is a questionnaire designed to offer suggestions on how to enable the Journal to continue to serve your needs.

The ES is curious as to your reaction to whether the Journal respects the sensitivity of those papers you do not wish circulated for general information. We would like to know specifically whether you find ~~many~~ ^{any} of your papers on the Journal which, [because of their ^{subjects} sensitivity or your desire to maintain its privacy with the OCI] should not be ~~disseminated~~ ^{read} ^{by} the other offices.

Our other major concern is whether the ~~paraphrase~~ of the Journal items provide are adequate for as ~~a brief summary of~~ for general information for those ~~items~~ offices for not on dissem for the ^{actual} pages ~~itself~~ themselves.

The ES, is also receptive to ~~If you have any~~ recommendations any on the ^{scope} length of entries, their style, or their format.
